The Topflight Coot by Avian X delivers in many ways. From its spot-on anatomy, feather detail and true to life paint scheme – this is not just another coot. It provides the perfect paint selection down to the last detail. Some waterfowlers look at these as a confidence decoy and throw out 2 or 3, but the razor sharp waterfowlers look at these as a difference maker in competitive conditions. Coots can number in the hundreds in a single feeding raft, as they feed on aquatic vegetation. Their primary food source is Wild Celery and Sago Pondweed that happens to be the preferred diet of Wigeon, Redheads and Canvasbacks. Large spreads of these Topflight Coot with a few Wigeon, Reds and Cans mixed in, can be lights out!
